

Please join the Sisters of St. Francis as we continue to explore the horrific issues related to human trafficking.

We invite you to join us as we walk in the shoes of the victims and challenge our hearts to respond as our faith calls us.

PRESENTERS: Two Women of Faith

Dr. Ellyn Jo Waller, Ed.D., is passionate about combating human trafficking by educating and lifting the lives of women. Ellyn is active in antihuman trafficking efforts both domestically and internationally. She is a member of the Philadelphia Anti-Human Trafficking Coalition and actively supports rescue and restoration efforts in Cape Town, South Africa and Padova, Italy.

Habibah Sulayman Smith has vast experience working with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Her experience with youth drew her to a strong commitment to address issues related to human trafficking. She has addressed this issue with her church family and the surrounding communities of Upper Darby via the Human Trafficking Symposiums. She is currently the chair of the Delaware County Anti-Human Trafficking Coalition.
